

Like A Rock: Becoming A Person of Character

Your character is who you truly are. It will impact how much you accomplish in this life. It will make or break every one of your relationships. It is more far-reaching than your talent, your education, your background, or your network of friends. In a time of failing vision and decaying values, the will to do what is right, as God defines right, regardless of personal cost is the true mark of a man or woman of character.
