Katherine didnt believe in soul mates, she wasnt even sure if she believed in love until the night she saw him. There was something oddly familiar about his dark blue eyes, but she was sure shed never seen him before. The only thing more confusing than the overwhelming attraction she felt toward this mysterious stranger, was the way he was staring right back at her with that same look of curious fascination. Then suddenly he leaves and shes left with nothing but the haunting memory of his beautiful eyes and the strange connection they seem to have with her recurring nightmares. The day Michaels mother died was one of greatly mixed emotions. He would miss his mother, but her passing meant that he would finally be free of his oppressive father. He was leaving and nothing was going to stop him. But why couldnt he stop thinking about the beautiful woman he had seen the night he got the call about his mother. Why had she seemed so familiar?
