

Please Quote Me!: Volume 1 Understanding Beating Resistance

Have you ever been inspired with a brilliant idea but not followed through? Is there a voice in your heart prompting you to do the work you were born to do yet you've not taken action? Are you gripped by inertia when it comes to showing up in the world with what you truly love? Then you already know resistance. It is the inner force blocking our way when we are called to do the work we were born to do and contribute something meaningful. It is inspiration's evil twin, whose goal is to keep us ruled by fear, guilt and limitation, imprisoning us and our skills in a half-life. Nick Williams believes that each of us is born with unique gifts to share. In this book, he shares 146 of his favourite insights to help you to overcome resistance, share your talents and live the life you were meant to lead for the benefit of us all. Nick is an internationally renowned speaker, mentor and best-selling author of ten books. He has spent the last 20 years as a coach, adviser, friend, mentor, spiritual advisor and encourager to leaders in the areas of business, the media and entertainment, the law, personal and spiritual growth, academia, retail, the NHS. His purpose is inspiring people to discover and live their unique calling and to show up in the world with their unique gifts. He is founder of the Spiritual Pro Global Community. His ten books have been translated into eight languages, and he has so far been invited to speak in sixteen countries.
