I used to believe in destiny. I was six years old when I first took to the stage, and Ive danced every day since. Its the biggest part of who I am. The fuel that drives me forward. My oxygen... My life... My soul.

The stars were perfectly aligned, and my fairy tale had slowly begun to play out like a beautifully scripted passage from a romance novel. I was all set to live my happily ever after Until I wasnt. If dancing was my heart, Daniel was the blood that kept it beating. I was content with supporting him as he worked towards his music dreams, but then he disappeared, leaving me scared, alone and suffocating under the crushing weight of his debts. Its said that opportunity often comes disguised as misfortune. When one door closes, another one opens. But I wasnt prepared for it to belong to Reveal, one of New York Citys most exclusive Burlesque Clubs. It feels as though the universe is conspiring against me until fate thrusts two very different men into the equation. And what they have in common, no one could have predicted. Destiny may have delivered them both, but who stays is my choice.
